Key issues

The attached annual plans describe the work planned by the North Tyneside and Northumberland Safeguarding Adults Board (NSAB) in 2016/17 and the predicted work plan for the coming year 2017/18

Background

The County Council has strategic responsibility for overseeing multi-agency arrangements in its area for safeguarding adults at risk. This includes both arrangements for investigating and where necessary acting on referrals alleging that vulnerable adults are being abused or neglected, and wider arrangements for ensuring that the safety, independence and dignity of vulnerable adults are protected.

The Appendices fully describe the strategic priorities of the North Tyneside and Northumberland Safeguarding Adults Board

Implications arising out of the report with Care Act 2015, and national policy statement on safeguarding adults issued in March 2015. Finance and value for money No direct implications Human Resources Safeguarding investigations can in some circumstances lead to disciplinary action against staff. Safeguarding training is mandatory for all staff working in adult services Property No direct implications Equalities This is an information report so does not require an EIA. (Impact Assessment attached) Referrals statistics suggest that the gender and ethnic balance of safeguarding referrals broadly match those of the care management of risks in individual cases is a core element of safeguarding. Management of risks in commissioned services is a core role of contracting work. Crime & Disorder Northumbria Police are members of the Safeguarding Adults Board, and there is close joint working to ensure that prompt and appropriate action is taken where it is thought that a crime may have been committed. Customer Considerations There is a continuing need to keep under review the balance between maximising the control 'adults at risk' have over their support arrangements and ensuring that they are adequately protected from the risk of abuse or exploitation – although greater individual control can often also in itself be a means of reducing people's vulnerability.
